Opening of the Jefferson.

From present indications the Jefferson will be opened in about two weeks-perhaps the last day of this month or the first of rext. A large number of men are hard at work putting the finishing touches on the building, and the work of furnishing is being pushed night and day. The furniture for the public apartments has not arrived as yet.

While the Jefferson will only cater to the best trade, it is not believed that the charges will be as high as some people have thought. It is understood that the transient rate will be $5$ per day, and that discounts will be made to regular patrons, according to location, length of stay, etc.

Mr. S. K. McKee, the new secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, entered into the discharge of his duties yesterday. He took hold of the reins in the most business-like and matter-of-fact manner, and no one looking in the secretary's office would have supposed that it was in charge of an officer who had only been in the city twenty-four hours. The members of the association are already beginning to feel as though they had known him for years. The new secretary is easily approached, and has a happy way of at once gaining the friendship of those with whom he comes in contact.

CHICAGO, ILL., October 16.—Some lingering signs of yesterday's strength in wheat were still apparent when the market opened to-day, but the bulls were without any fresh news or arguments with which to convince themselves or others that the prices should go higher. Liverpool cables came with a decline of 1-4c., thereby ignoring yesterday's strength on this side. About the middle of the session an absence of support to prices was noted, and a general easing away took place, until, with the announcement by Bradstreet's of an increase in the world's available supply of 7,886,000 bushels, there came a break of 3-4c., after which business became slack, and "puts" checked any further decline.

December wheat opened at from 61% 60.7-8c., sold between 61.3-85% 1-4c., and closed at 60.3-85% 1-4c. under yesterday. Cash wheat was irregular, but the nominal close was weaker and about 1-2% 1c. lower.

Partly in sympathy with wheat, and partly on light receipts—271 cars—corn was quite firm this morning, and managed to hold its own until the slump succeeding Bradstreet's announcement took place in wheat, when less strength was noted. But, even at the close, when wheat was weak, there was an air of steadiness to corn. The prospect that more limited supplies are to come in from now on was quite plainly the explanation of the strength.

May corn opened at 29.1-2c., sold between 29.3-4 and 29.3-8679 1-2c., and closed at 29.1-2c.—unchanged from yesterday. Cash corn was steady to firm.

Whilst the firmness of wheat and corn was in evidence, oats held well, but, with the disappearance of strength from the leading grains, the minor one was unable to sustain itself. Cash oats were about 1-3c. higher, closing easy. May closed a shade under yesterday.

Provisions—The news from the yards was discouraging this morning, and it cast a shadow over product, which hung there all through the session. A large run of hogs was announced, but they were poor in quality, and prices went off, from 500c, per 100 pounds.

Only a light trade was seen in p

SUFFOLK FAIR.

A Pretty Bicycle Parade-The Racing.

SUFFOLK, VA., October 16 .- (Special.)-To-day being the second of the Suffolk Fair, an immense crowd was present. A special feature of the day was a parade special feature of the day was a parase by the young girl bicyclists of Suffolk, their wheels being beautifully decorated, the whole forming the prettiest exhibition of the kind ever witnessed here.

The racing to-day was closely contested and very interesting. The principal event was a 2.50-class, mile heats, best three in five, purse $150. Summary: Skilful, owned by Samuel Walton, of Falls Mills, Va., 3, 1, 1, 1, Jack Luchs, owned by J. H. Pawling, of Philadelphia, Pa., 1, 2, 3, 3; Lucy Ashby, owned by S. R. Nelson, of Richmond, Va., 2, 2, 2; Miss Keene, owned by B. M. Bruce, of Suffolk, Va., 4, 4, 4; Clay Grit, owned by Turlington Brothers, Bridgetown, Va., 5, 5, Time, 2:31, 2:28 1-2, 2:31, 2:27 1-2.

In the exhibition race, 2:22-class, Samuel Walton's Annie Lawson won the best two out of three, over Julian May, owned by Mat, White, of Edenton, N. C. Today this track's trotting record of 2:22 1-2 was lowered to 2:19 1-2 by Samuel Walton's Katharine Lebon. The same horse will to-morrow be sent to break the State record of 2:19. by the young girl bleyelists of Suffolk,
